

WELL DONE

There are many wrong ways to do something:

Indifferently: I have no interest in doing it.

Stubbornly: I won't do it.

Independently: I'll do it my own way.

Rebelliously: I'll do the opposite.

Disobediently: I'll do it, but not exactly.

Slothfully: I'll do it with as little effort as possible.

Lazily: I'll do it when I get around to it.

Selfishly: I'll do it if there's something in it for me.

Irresponsibly: I'll let someone else do it.

Negatively: I'll do it, but why does it have to be me?

Ungratefully: I'll do it, but don't expect me to be happy about it.

There are also right ways:

Wholeheartedly: "And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men." – Colossians 3:23

Joyfully: "Serve the Lord with gladness." – Psalm 100:2

Faithfully: "Well done good and faithful servant; you were faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things..." – Matthew 25:21

Are you involved in serving the Lord and His kingdom on this earth? If not, get involved...today!
